This Guide was created for exactly this moment. It holds not only the answers you've been searching for, but a clear path toward Inner Mastery — a place where your authentic Purpose and Luminous Essence can express themselves freely and fully.

*"The Path of Self-Mastery begins with one decision: choosing yourself.
Join me — and open the door to healing, happiness, and the miraculous!"*

I.

I Ask the Right Questions

So You Can Find the Right Answers

Knowing yourself is the foundation of all personal growth. Take a moment to pause, breathe, and answer the following questions honestly and spontaneously. Let your Inner Voice speak for you — there are no wrong answers, only your truth.

Who are you?

What are your super-powers?

What makes You unique?

"Try to answer these questions in a simple, spontaneous and truthful way. Let that Inner Voice speak for you..."

II.

From Now to the Next Year

You Envision an Upgraded Version of Your-Self

When we live in the past, we forget to be present and we cannot build a future that can be what we really wish and need. Getting to know yourself will also help you to envision a better future and make it happen in every moment.

How does this future Self look like?

What do you wish to create in your life to feel happier and healthier?

How can you achieve an enhanced feeling of Self-Worth and Value?

III.

Your Inner Voice and Its Power

You Know There Is Something Special About It

We are all born with a Gut feeling — but often trauma and wounds make us doubt ourselves. We keep ourselves small, fearful and ashamed to express our true Voice. You have a beautiful, unique song to sing in this lifetime. Reclaim your Voice so you can make your Heart sing it with delight and shine!

When and what helps you listen to your Inner Voice?

Who could help you gain more confidence and authenticity in expressing this Inner Voice?

If your Voice would sing the Song of your Heart, how would you name it?

IV.

Your Body Is a Sacred Temple

Where You Can Build and Cherish Your Tree of Life

All traumas and hidden negative patterns are trapped in the body and only manifest when we are overwhelmed, triggered, pushed to an extreme, worn out. Giving space and time to your Body to just be, feel and enjoy every moment of embodied presence is the key towards a more healthy, happy and fulfilled life.

When do you feel most embodied, energized and creative?

What is your Magic body-fuel that gives you drive, juice and passion in life?

How often do you pause and listen to the messages that your Body sends to you?

V.

Your Master-Self Is Ready

To Embrace You Fully

Mastering yourself is a process and a path of self-discovery, healing and growth. It happens when you start to trust yourself and to appreciate every aspect of you and every lesson you have received from life. Every progress and manifestation starts inside.

What are the lessons of Life you cherish most as steps forward on your path towards Mastery?

What are the main ingredients of your personalized formula for success, visibility and impact?

What makes you feel aligned to your Purpose, as an expression of your Inner Voice and Manifestation power?

About Irini Hara

I have many roles — daughter, sister, womb-carrier, mother. My professional path began in science and cultural heritage research more than 26 years ago, but life called me somewhere deeper.

Since 2016, I have devoted myself to the sacred feminine — to the Womb, the Heart, and the ancient wisdom that lives where they meet. I work internationally as a medicine woman, Priestess of the Mary Magdalene legacy, therapist, and mentor, holding space for women who are ready to transform.

I bring both rigor and tenderness to this work. Years of experience, yes — but also an open heart and a genuine hunger to learn. What drives me is not credentials, but curiosity — a childlike wonder that no amount of experience has dimmed. My purpose is simple and profound: to guide you back to yourself, to the Master within you that has always been there, waiting to be claimed.
